POLICE OF 5 DIST'S DISCUSS WORK IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Conference Held by F. B. I. in Philadelphia Attended By Bristol Police

DEMONSTRATIONS GIVEN

Picture Shows Possibility That Could Confront A Police Department

Police from Bristol and Morrisville were among the approximately 200 chiefs of police, heads of law enforcement organizations, and squads of various police departments assigned to National Defense work from Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks, Delaware, and Montgomery counties which met yesterday at the United States Court House, Ninth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, to discuss matters of National Defense and to observe demonstrations regarding explosives from FBI laboratory technicians and Philadelphia Police Department bomb experts. There was also shown the film "War and Order" which was taken in London and shows the activities of the police in dealing with the present emergency. This picture showed in a graphic manner every possibility that could confront a police department in handling bombs and incendiary fires. Large slide photos of bombs presently being used in the war and the results of the explosions of the same together with the best means of combating fires caused by these bombs were also shown to the assembled law enforcement officers. These photos were secured by a special mission of FBI agents who were sent to London by the Director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover, to observe first-hand the emergencies and difficulties which confront a police department during a war.

Attending the conference from Bristol were Chief of Police, Linford J. Jones; Bucks County Detective, Anthony Russo; Sergeant of Bristol Police, Daniel J. Ferry; Bristol patrolmen, Eugene Dugan, Michael Murphy, and John A. Sackville.

Chief of Police, Albert Cooper, Morrisville, and members of the Morrisville-Trenton Bridge Police, were also in attendance.

There was also a demonstration given by Lieutenant Albert Granitz of the Philadelphia Police Department in which the Bomb Opening Shield was exhibited. This is a protective device used by the Philadelphia Police Department whereby packages believed to contain explosives can be opened from a safe distance and provide, at the same time, protection to the opener of the package.

Lieutenant Granitz exhibited the X-Ray machine which is used to analyze the contents of packages that are suspected to contain explosives.

William S. McKinley of the Federal Bureau of Investigation discussed at length the composition of bombs which would more likely be encountered by the police in cases of sabotage, the results of explosions of different types of bombs, and approved methods of handling the same.

The United States Attorney, Gerald A. Gleason, of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, whose office is empowered with the prosecution of all National Defense cases arising in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, addressed the assembly stressing the importance of adequate investigation for law enforcement. "The law enforcement officer of today is the front line defense in this time of peace. The American public is dependent upon law enforcement to prevent, through alertness, honesty, and a thorough investigation, the infiltration of anti-American elements into this country."

The meeting was under the immediate supervision of Special Agent in Charge John F. Sears, of the Philadelphia office of the FBI. "The Director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover, has been greatly pleased by the efficient and thorough manner in which the chiefs of police and other law enforcement agencies in the Eastern and Middle Districts of Pennsylvania have assisted the FBI in investigation of National Defense cases," commented Mr. Sears. "Co-operation and co-ordination such as shown by the police departments whose representatives are here today can only ultimately result in one answer, and that is that those who are engaged in undermining the security of this country will be brought into the limelight and justly punished. It is imperative with the new laws affecting National Defense that we of law enforcement meet and discuss our individual problems upon a common ground so that our action will be united and uniform."

Germans Expect To Win Crete

Berlin, May 24—Fighting in Crete has become "purely localized," German authorities said today, and it is "only a question of time" before the allied defenders are forced to surrender en masse.

This assertion was coupled with the statement that, as a result of the reportedly successful attack on Crete, invasion of Britain is virtually a certainty.

Hints were thrown out, however, that Cyprus, Suez, and Malta may be eliminated as war factors before the invasion of Britain is attempted.

$500,000 Fire in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 24—Fed by oil and 1,500,000 pounds of waste, a three-alarm fire today destroyed the National Waste Company in the Manayunk section with an estimated loss of $500,000.

For three hours, firemen fought amidst dozens of minor explosions to control the wind-fanned blaze. Ruined in the fire were 15,000 pounds of waste scheduled to be sent to the Frankford Arsenal this morning.

King Victor Emmanuel Has Narrow Escape

Rome, May 24—King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Veltrac of Albania had a narrow escape last Saturday, it was revealed today, when several shots were fired at the automobile in which they were riding in Tirana.

Accounts in Rome said the shots were fired by a "madman."

Apparently the bullets were directed toward Veltrac, and not the King. No one was hurt.

It was not Victor Emmanuel's first close brush with assassin's bullets. The diminutive Italian king was brought to the throne by the bullet of an anarchist assassin which killed his father, King Humbert in 1900.

While the royal cortege was proceeding to Tirana airport, an official announcement asserted, a Greek named Mihaloff fired several shots at Premier Veltrac, who was seated beside the king.

The announcement said Mihaloff was saved from the crowds who attempted to lynch him. His action was motivated by personal resentment against Albanian officials, who refused to give him employment.

BUCKS COUNTIAN HAS TINIEST FEET IN CAMP

Private Ralph Barnes, Sellersville, Wears Size Three Shoes

HAS PLATINUM NOSE

SELLERSVILLE, May 24—A Sellersville man, Private Ralph Barnes, who was chosen as a U. S. Army selectee in April, has the smallest feet of any of the men in service at Fort Meade, Md. The size of his shoe is three.

Barnes is waiting for his regulation shoes because of having been unable to find a decent fit in any of the supply sergeants' headquarters at Fort Meade.

Word soon spread about the military reservation that there was one man who could not be outfitted with G. I. (government issue) clothes. Even his suits were too large, which is more or less a common thing in the Army. The colonel got wind of the small feet and he sent word, saying: "I want to meet this man with the small feet."

Barnes was summoned before the colonel and soon found that he would be retained as a sort of mascot despite his small size. He is just 5 feet, 1 inch tall.

Besides being the man with the smallest feet in Sellersville and Fort Meade, Barnes also has a part platinum nose. That odd feature he obtained several years ago when he had an infection in the upper part of the nose. The expensive portion of his anatomy is completely hidden and his nose looks just like any other nose, except that it would fail to "give" if punched.

Barnes was taken in the draft early in April. He left from Draft Board No. 4, Quakertown. He expects to be transferred to the air corps soon, for the government has need of his services to check gauges on airplanes, he was told. Before he was drafted he was employed at the U. S. Gauge plant, here.

$600 WORTH OF TIRES STOLEN FROM WAREHOUSE

Missing Truck Found Later
Along Highway; Voltz
Property Looted

DISCOVERED BY POLICE

Automobile tires valued at approximately $600 were stolen from the warehouse of Paul C. Voltz, Route 13, south of Mill street, sometime during the early morning hours today.

A light delivery truck was also taken but this was later found a short distance away.

Entrance was forced into the warehouse and also into the garage of the Voltz service station. The tires were loaded on the truck and apparently driven away. Then it is presumed that the tires were transferred to another truck so as to avoid detection.

An effort was also made to force an entrance into the office of the Voltz service station. A window was broken and the door jimmied but the effort met with failure.

Patrolman Joseph Stackhouse, of the Bristol police, discovered the warehouse open this morning as he was doing patrol duty. He immediately contacted Mr. Voltz and upon investigation it was found that the truck and tires had been stolen. Later the truck was found near the elevated crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad over the Bristol Pike.

ASKS RETURN OF REELS

The electrical wire and cable requirements of National Defense have reached the point where there are not enough shipping containers available. The wire and cable manufacturers are faced with an acute shortage of reels, spools and cases. The principal reason for this shortage is that busy industries and municipalities are thoughtlessly forgetting to return empty containers, even though the refund value represents an enormous idle investment by them. Deliveries on vital defense orders are being threatened by this condition to the extent that an appeal is made for greater co-operation from all users of electrical wires and cable.

ASK FOR JUDICIAL CONSTRUCTION OF COMFORT WILL

Attorneys Ask Court To Define Rights of The Executors

THE ESTATE DWINDLES

Valued in 1930 at Close To $1,000,000 by The Appraisers

DOYLESTOWN, May 24—Seeking a declaratory judgment in order to define the rights of the executors of the estate of Henry W. Comfort, who died in 1930, leaving an estate then valued at close to $1,000,000, a hearing was held yesterday in the Orphans' Court of Bucks County before Judges Calvin S. Boyer and Hiram H. Keller. Comfort was a resident of Falls Township.

State Senator Howard I. James, of Bristol, representing the executors—William Lovett and the First Mechanics National Bank of Trenton—in closing a lengthy argument on behalf of his clients, asked the Court in the opinion to be handed down later, for a judicial construction of the Comfort will so that the proper course can be taken.

At yesterday's hearing, Edgar T. Snipes, attorney, represented the Falls Monthly Meeting and the Falsington Library Company, both of whom were left bequests in the Comfort will.

Because of financial reverses in certain investments and notes, and the general depression of several years ago, the securities in which most of the Comfort estate was invested greatly depreciated until very little of the original estate remains. The late Mr. Comfort financially backed the Henry Avenue bridge in Philadelphia for the contractor and in this venture a large amount of money was lost on notes.

John P. Betz, Jr., Bristol attorney, represented the widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Comfort, who still resides on the Comfort farm in Falls Township. Thomas Ross, Doylestown attorney, represented the Trenton Banking Company, a creditor of the estate. Several attorneys from New Jersey attended the hearing.

Mrs. Gertrude Jackson, clerk of Falls Monthly Meeting; Miss Lily Moon, of the Falsington Library; and Wendell F. Oliver were the only witnesses called yesterday. They testified as to the stand taken by the organizations they represented.

Argument by various attorneys over the hundreds of words of testimony already taken over a period of years in this case, was explained in a few "boiled down" words as being the formal legal move to get a final judicial construction of the will.

BROADCASTING TO EUROPE

The United States has taken a step which will counteract in part the propaganda which streams across the Atlantic via the radio. This nation has been flooded by Axis publicity—false, misleading, and yet for the most part unanswerable. Because of lack of radio facilities America could not tell the German people who might have been daring enough to listen about the lies spread in this country and in Germany, except through a short wave broadcast between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m. sent by the National Broadcasting Company.

The new arrangement increases the broadcasting hours of the NBC program to a 24-hour basis: 16 hours assigned to Europe and 8 to South America. In addition, NBC has combined two 50,000-watt short wave stations to give 100,000-watt power. Only one other station in the world equals this power, that of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Americans would not endorse a propaganda radio system designed to circulate false reports, a description that fits the government-owned German radio. The role of American broadcasts should be that of correcting false statements of Nazi and Fascist leaders, and of telling the truth about conditions in the United States. What is revealed should be accurate. As times proves the reliability of the U. S. broadcast, it should win an ever-growing audience abroad.

It is noteworthy that the station sending the American broadcast to Europe will be operated under the American system of free enterprise.

HANDS AT TWO HELMS

Some more or less interesting if not highly important bits of political gossip occasionally filter out of Washington in these days when news channels are choked up with a plethora of war matter.

Among these is the information that Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of the Republican National Committee does not find that, at the moment anyway, his dual task of running the minority in the House and looking after the affairs of his political party is a man-killing operation. The party is not too active in Congress and this is an off time for politics in the country. But that does not mean that Mr. Martin's hands are not on both helms.

There was a time when, yielding to the insistence that he continue as party chairman, he considered the appointment of an executive director to relieve him of the details of party direction. But now it is said that the possibility of such appointment is likely to go over until fall at least. In the meantime Mr. Martin may put two or three men of his own choice on the job of feeling the party pulse.

Mr. Martin remembers that the pulse feeling was not too well done in 1940, with the result that predictions of a party overturn in the House of Representatives were sadly out of line with results of the November contest. He purposes to be better posted in 1942. He will look to his own scouts, rather than to local chieftains, for political information.

The cold and fishy eye, he has learned, is more to be depended upon than are the enthusiasms of state and county leaders who sometimes look upon political prospects without proper regard for perspective.

Resolution

The members of the Public School Board of Bristol Township desire to place on record their appreciation of the services of the late lamented William H. Smyrl, and their deep sense of his loss. By the death of Mr. Smyrl the Board is deprived of the services and active interest of one who has been a faithful member of the Board since 1921.

To the matters that fell to his duties in the management of school affairs, he gave that careful and earnest attention that was so characteristic of him. His sterling qualities, his intense interest in all matters appertaining to the welfare of the children and the schools, his punctuality and his faithful attention to his duties, so endeared him to all that his death is felt by the members of the Board as a personal bereavement and we sympathize deeply with the community at large and with his family to whom we offer our tenderest condolences and earnestly invoke for them the support of higher consolation.

Resolved—That a copy of this minute be sent to the family, that it be published in the Bristol Daily Courier and also that it be incorporated in the minutes of the Board of date May 13, 1941.

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP
PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD,
JAMES ROBINSON,
President.

Attest:
ARTHUR SEYFORTH, Secretary.

Army Game -- Blackout Tire Change

Here is an army trick most motorists won't attempt with their eyes wide open. Preparing for all emergencies, including blackouts, classes of enlisted men are being trained in the care and repair of equipment for the army's new mobile divisions. Zackery George, from Fort Houston, Texas, kicks out the rim to finish his blindfold-blackout time trial in remounting a truck tire. Lt. J. J. Porgione, Fort Wayne, Michigan, in charge of army classes being trained by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, is timing the work.

Nothing makes a selective service man in camp happier than a letter from home or a home-town newspaper in the daily mail, army officials said recently after an extensive survey.

Next in order, the selective service youth likes sweets such as candy, cookies and chocolates—and chewing gum!

Officers say that on the march the gum helps keep the boys from drinking too much water and from dipping into their lunch ration.

Other offerings which bring a smile of pleasure to the enrollee include a general repertoire of utilities among which are books of stamps, flashlights, a towel now and then, toilet articles, and reading materials.

Officers say that if relatives want to be sure their addressee gets what's mailed to him, they should address the letter or package in this way: Name first, his company or battery second, his regiment third, and, lastly the name of the post office.

Highest Honors at Music
College for Miss Gilkeson

Miss Mary Kooker Gilkeson, granddaughter of Burgess and Mrs. Jacob A. Kooker, of Sellersville, will graduate next week from Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., with the highest honors ever accorded a graduate in the history of the institution.

The commencement exercises will be held on May 29th at Princeton.

Dr. John Finley Williamson, president of the college, said that Miss Gilkeson has proved to be one of the finest piano students attending Westminster in its 12 years' history. She recently presented a difficult musical work that contained more than 40 pages of musical scores as one of her farewell concerts.

Miss Helen Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hubbard, Perkaskie, also will graduate next week. She has been chosen for a position at Gastonia, N. C., where she will go immediately after her graduation.

Miss Gilkeson has accepted a position as organist and choir director of the Congregational Church at Nantux, Conn., which has a congregation of about 800 people. She will relinquish her duties as organist and choir director at St. Paul's Church, Sellersville, to take up her new post on or about September 1st.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

For three years, ever since the release of "Boys Town," thousands of motion picture-goers have asked for a sequel to that fascinating true-life film, telling further of Father Flanagan's fight for homeless and unwanted boys, "Men of Boys Town," again starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, comes as the answer to those requests on Sunday to the Grand Theatre for an engagement of three days.

It is a dramatic, punchy, two-fisted story of Father Flanagan's battle against all forms of cruelty in the corrective treatment of youth. For Father Flanagan believes that there is no such thing as a bad boy, and has proved it at his City of Little Men where there are neither guards nor fences.

The film tells of Father Flanagan's financial difficulties when he goes $200,000 in debt to make room for the hundreds of boys who seek his help. But no matter what his money problems, he always has time to go to the aid of a boy who needs him.

BRISTOL THEATRE

A new type of action drama opened at the Bristol Theatre last night, when "The Great Train Robbery" showed local thrill fans just how an entire train can be literally stolen despite the constant vigilance of line officials.

When Martin Mooney began the screen play of "Federal Fugitives," now showing at the Bristol Theatre, he discovered, to his amazement, that the reason Army officers are seldom seen in uniform in Washington, is because the military, and the Navy, too, for that matter, do not want visitors from out-of-town to get the impression that our federal government is controlled by our armed services. So, to "keep the record straight," as he puts it, Mooney's hero and all the other army officer characters seen in "Federal Fugitives" appear in mufti, or civilian clothes.

"Foreign Correspondent" will be shown on Sunday.

RITZ THEATRE

Received in royal fashion by audiences the world over when she played the role of a queen in "The Man In The Iron Mask," Joan Bennett is brought back to the screen in a similar role in "The Son of Monte Cristo," an Edward Small production, in which she is co-starred with Louis Hayward at the Ritz Theatre.

In this new great production she plays the role of the grand duchess of a mythical European kingdom under the direction of Rowland V. Lee, the man who directed the picture's highly successful predecessor, "The Count of Monte Cristo."

THREE RUNS IN 6TH GIVE FALLSINGTON WIN OVER RICHBORO

Rally Spoils Hurling Duel
Between Shedga and Kenderdine

FINAL SCORE IS 6 TO 2

Shedga Allowed Only Five
Well-Scattered Hits
In Game

RICHBORO, May 24—Three earned runs in the sixth gave the Fallsington High School a well-deserved victory over the Richboro high team yesterday afternoon.

The three-run rally spoiled a hurling duel between "Bill" Shedga and "Kenny" Kenderdine. Until the rally started, Kenderdine had allowed but five hits and the score was evened at two each.

Mansmann worked Kenderdine for a pass to start the uprising after Sterling had grounded out. Caffey got a hit and Al Monti called a three-bagger to left which scored both basemen. Brazine was passed and when Anderson also walked, the sacks were loaded. W. Ellis provided the winning base blow, lining a hit to left-center.

Shedga who did the hurling for the winners allowed but five hits which were well-scattered. He had eight strikeouts and only appeared in trouble in the fifth when the Richboro team scored both its markers on a two-bagger by Heritage, an error by Anderson, and an infield out.

Mansmann had two out of three to lead the Falls hitters while Caffey and Monti had two for four.

The victory gave the DeRisimen a .500 average for the season.

AUTO BOYS BOOKED TO MEET ODD FELLOWS

A Bristol Suburban League contest is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon on St. Ann's field when the Auto Boys meet the Odd Fellows. Last evening's tilt between Diamond Sporting Goods and St. Ann's was called off because of rain.

The Odd Fellows and Auto Boys are on even terms in the league race. The Oddies have come to life in the last three games and are hitting the ball at a fast clip. These two teams played a 4-4 deadlock one evening last week.

The Oddies will stick to their same line-up with either Ashby or Jones throwing them up. Morgan will bank on his left-hander Tommy Sweeney to do the twirling. Manager Morgan has also signed Howie Black and Vic Rockhill who will likely participate in the game.

Game is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

Seventy-Five Horses of East To Race at Freehold

FREEHOLD, N. J., May 24—Seventy-five horses from many parts of the East will compete in the two-day light harness events that will mark the opening of the 66th purse racing season on the Freehold Race Track May 30th and 31st, Secretary Norman L. Marshall announced. Purses for six events aggregate $2,400. In addition, two over-night races for horses on the grounds are carded.

That the traditional Memorial Day meeting here is popular among horsemen is evinced by the entry list, with steeds from Freehold, Plainfield, Newark, Burlington, New York, Connecticut, Princeton, New Brunswick, York, Pa., and many other nearby places. A goodly sprinkling of trotters and pacers new to local race fans are among the stand-bys who have raced over the Freehold half mile oval in the five years since the track was taken over by Harry S. Gould, Park Ridge manufacturer.

The Memorial Day card is the first of two purse race events scheduled so far this year, the second being on July 4th and 5th, in which a great deal of interest already is manifest.

In addition, matinee races under auspices of the Freehold Driving Club are carded for May 24th, and June 14th and 21st.

GRIMY-FACED DRIVERS PREPARING FOR GRIND

A legion of grimy-faced daredevil race drivers are counting championship points today as they get ready for Sunday's battle for laurels on Lucky Teter's Langhorne Speedway.

Nursing scars of last Sunday's terrific battle for Langhorne points, the headline drivers are revamping their motors for the most important session of speed yet seen on the world's fastest mile speedway. So close are the leaders that even a second lost in a dangerous slide in any of the curves would send the driver zooming to the bottom of the title standing.

Flashy Ted Horn is happiest of the speed fraternity because of his position as leader of the point standing, gained by two grueling weeks on the most dangerous race track in the world. Horn's 132 points were gained by winning the feature classic at the track's gala opening and finishing well up in the money despite a jinx last Sunday.

Doggedly hanging on to Horn's tail is Everett Saylor, the brilliant Dayton, O., school teacher-driver. Saylor gained his 118 points under the most painful circumstances seen at Langhorne this year. His goggles broken by a stone thrown from Horn's wheels at the height of the dangerous competition, Saylor rushed into the first-aid tent between races and had a piece of glass removed from his right eye. Despite the injury, Saylor says he'll be back in there fighting next Sunday for the important title points.

Finding the Langhorne "groove" for the first time in his ten years of competition on the speed-burned track, Bob Sal last Sunday slipped into fifth place with 93 points gained through a sensational victory in the feature classic. Well on his way to the title, Sal will be back at Langhorne Sunday afternoon to challenge the bid of Horn, Saylor, Joie Chitwood, Tony Willman, Bill Holland and a host of other reckless speed maniacs coming here from the Indianapolis Speedway to seek the rich Langhorne championship.

Again tomorrow the fickle hand of Lady Luck will probably distribute points in all directions when famous speed kings risk life and limb, and heart and soul, over the treacherous Langhorne course—the world's fastest. Here are drivers and their Langhorne points:

Pos.	Driver	Home	Total Pts.
1—	Ted Horn	Paterson, N. J.	132
2—	Everett Saylor	Dayton, O.	118

BRISTOL NINE FACES FAST FISCHER NINE AT PHILLY SUNDAY

Out To Shatter Streak of Lee
Sharkey's Fast
Outfit

PIUMA MAY START

Opponents Have Piled Up
13 Wins in Succession

By Jack Gill

At the present hour, Philly baseball fanatics have dubbed Manager Lee Sharkey's Fisher-A. A. nine as the "hottest" thing in town. They base this assumption on thirteen straight victories compiled over a host of fast semi-pro teams including Mayfair, Kensington and Germantown.

Johnny Mulholland steps up to challenge this aggregation with his promising Bristol A. A. unit this Sunday afternoon at Second and Godfrey streets at 3 o'clock. It isn't exactly what you would call easing the locals into the baseball world, either. For if the Bristol squad pulls through this one, it will vault to a position formerly held by Dave Landreth and his host of sprightly seed sowers.

The homesters opened their season auspiciously last Sunday at Atlantic City. With Stan Dick on the mound, the A's possess one of the best fingers in district ranks. He was particularly outstanding Sunday, shutting the shoremen off from the plate and fanning seventeen Chelsea swingers. "Boake" Carter will start at first, where he has scintillated in the Suburban loop thus far this campaign. Johnny Stallone, Wally Oppman and Jimmy Cooper will form the inner cordon, while Hunter, Harrison and Cahill will start in the outfield.

Mulholland plans to start Herb Piuma on the hill for Bristol with big Jesse Vanzant behind the plate. Should Piuma show signs of weakening, Dick will be quickly ushered into the fray. Fisher has shown by past performance that they pack plenty of power in their hickory. Al Bartle, former Landreth ace, Barnshaw, Conley and Feinberg, a former Philly tryout, are all Fisher players of outstanding quality. And Lee Sharkey is a sharp leader with scads of experience.

To expect a local triumph at this early date is out of the question. However, the A's, fielding an all local cast, have some real ball players on the rostrum. Many feel that they will hit a fine peak before the year ends. This game may be the springboard of a snappy surprise season.

Fierce Fighting at Crete

London, May 24—A fierce battle raged around the Maleme airbase on the Greek island of Crete today as British and Greek forces struggled to blast the German invaders from their hastily fortified stronghold.

This airbase formed the last major point of resistance still in German hands. British forces subjected it to a terrific hammering from positions to the east.

Latest advices to London confirmed that Anglo-Greek defenders had totally expelled the Nazis from the northern coastal city of Candia and also from Retimo.

At Candia the British captured all supplies which had been dropped to the German aerial troops by parachute. At Retimo the British gained possession of the entire town and its nearby airport.

These reports, plus word that 6,000 Germans had been downed in a futile attempt to invade Crete from the sea, aroused jubilation in official British quarters today.

Although Candia and Retimo were recaptured by the defenders, fierce fighting was in progress all over the island and Anglo-Greek forces battled isolated bands of Nazi parachutists.
